MEMORANDUM FOR: Chairman, Guided Weapons Working Group
Chairman, Guided Missiles Intelligence
Working Group

SUBJECT: Guided Missile Intelligence Gaps

1. At the [REDACTED] in February 1959, it was agreed that GMAIC would prepare a paper delineating the guided missile intelligence gaps. We have had difficulty in preparing a meaningful paper and, in addition, it is felt that the most serious gaps do not lie in those fields of responsibility covered by the terms of reference of our three guided missile committees/groups.

2. Further, the collection and analysis organizations in the US do not feel that such a jointly agreed paper would materially assist them in their activities in view of other extensive guidance on priorities.

3. Unless you feel very strongly that a jointly agreed paper on this subject is required, GMAIC does not plan to proceed further.
